Helpful links to the NC Department of Public Instruction
http://www.ncpublicschools.org

North Carolina License Information – This link provides assistance on how to apply for a North Carolina teaching license.
http://www.ncpublicschools.org/employment.html

North Carolina Standard Course of Study – This link reviews the key content requirements for the various courses of study in the public schools of North Carolina.
http://www.ncpublicschools.org/curriculum

Education Initiatives in North Carolina – This section of the state's website reviews key initiatives of the Department of Public Instruction. The state's ABC accountability model, closing the achievement gap initiatives, student accountability standards, and the NC School Report Cards are explained.
http://www.ncpublicschools.org/edinit.html

Statistical overview – In this part of the website, the Department of Public Instruction offers a wide range of statistical information on the performance of the students and schools of the state.
http://www.ncpublicschools.org/reportstats.html

Teach4NC -- The Teach4NC section of the DPI website provides a tremendous tool to explain licensure requirements, detail job openings, and apply for positions.
http://teach4nc.org

UNC Lateral Entry, Licensure and Teacher Education Programs – This link reviews the various programs in North Carolina to pursue licensure.
http://teach4nc.org/certification

Salaries, Benefits, and Incentives – This section provides links to the state salary schedule and to the various leave, health, and retirement benefits offered by the state.
http://teach4nc.org/salaries

NC Benefits and Employment Policy Manual -- The Benefits and Employment Policy Manual offers detailed explanations of the various leave benefits of working in NC public schools.
http://www.ncpublicschools.org/benemanual/

State Retirement System -- This link details the extensive benefits of the state retirement system. http://www.nctreasurer.com/dsthome

National Board Certification – Teachers wishing to pursue National Board Certification will find this link helpful.
http://www.nbpts.org