

ENGAGE

X-PLORE

COMMUNICATE

EMPOWER

LAUNCH

Time Out	Check	Foul

The time out is the non-verbal signal the leader uses with the group. Group responds by imitating the signal in response to the leader to let others know it's time to come back together. Group stops talking or working and gives attention to the leader.	The check is the non-verbal signal the group uses to encourage peers to do the right thing. The group calls each other to greatness. The check is a quick help to friends and is one and done. Leader will address any behaviors after one check, or attempt to help a peer, is made.	The foul is the non-verbal signal used when a group member is offended or feelings are hurt. Anyone can call a foul. If it is called, it counts. The foul is not a joke. Two "put ups" are given to start rebuilding the relationships. The relationship is more important than being right.