

Our Promise...

Every day we serve,
we learn, we solve.
Easterseals UCP will be here for children &
young adults living
with behavioral health
challenges
...today, tomorrow &
throughout the journey.

80%

of youth in the US
are left with little to no behavioral health treatment - we hope to change those numbers

School-Based Therapy

Easterseals UCP helps children and their families by offering services and resources for families and parents who are:

- Frustrated and discouraged by behavioral changes
- Involved with the legal system
- Experiencing unusual and unhealthy arguments
- Noticing significant changes in mood and interactions with others
- Issues with engaging in virtual learning or in classwork in general
- Non compliance in school and/or at home
- Lack or loss of interest in previous activities that the youth used to enjoy
- Conflict with peers, teachers or family members

Over the past 15+ years, we have served our community and provided services to children and adolescents with behavioral health and/or substance abuse problems and their families. We provide an array of services to ensure we are able to meet individual and changing needs of each child and family throughout the continuum of care.

We provide comprehensive, office and community-based behavioral health services for families with children from ages 5 to 18 years of age. Services are intended to increase resiliency by building on strengths and community supports to help families care for children in their own homes and provide the tools for children to thrive. We strive to provide services that are research-based and proven to provide effective solutions and outcomes for the child and family.
